

What is Infant Mental Health?

May 7 6:00 -7:30 pm CDT

Where: Anywhere - the webinar can be viewed anywhere you have an internet connection

Learn about the field of infant mental health and its impact on your profession.

The first years of life provide the basis for children's mental health and social-emotional development. Specialists in infant mental health will explain how professionals and laypeople can support healthy development during the early years of a child's life.

The information presented in this webinar can assist anyone who serves young children, including, teachers, law enforcement officers, attorneys, mental health professionals and others.

Register:

<http://bit.ly/NAIMH-Webinar>

About the presenters:

Mark Hald, Ph.D. is a licensed psychologist and partner with Options In Psychology, LLC in Scottsbluff, Nebraska. Dr. Hald is also a Nationally Certified School Psychologist and a Registered Play Therapist. Dr. Hald has an extensive background working with children, adolescents, and families in a variety of settings over the last 30 years, including residential treatment centers and psychiatric hospitals.

Joy Osofsky, Ph.D., is a Professor of Pediatrics and Psychiatry at Louisiana State University Health Sciences Center and a Licensed Clinical Psychologist. Dr. Osofsky is a national leader on infant mental health and has worked in the field for over 30 years. She has published numerous ground breaking studies on topics including early childhood trauma, child development and juvenile courts.

Sponsored by:

The Behavioral Health Education Center of Nebraska (BHECN) and